editor's note

We hope everyone had a great Chinese New Year as there was so much that happened in Vivacity Megamall. We saw lions prancing and dancing, leaping from pole to pole, martial artists showcasing their skills to a dragon flying around at the Alfresco area. It was a Wang'derful occasion for many.

Yummy and mouth-watering beef rendang, satays and ketupats. The howl of a warrior in motion and the cheer of the ladies. This only signals one thing, Hari Raya and Gawai. This edition of Vivarious should be very obvious. Enjoy the little facts we have collected for you all, as many do not know the in-depth meaning behind the celebration. Both celebration is only 2 weeks apart from each other, hence we decided to put both together, which surprisingly does complement each other.

In this issue, we collected and compiled the latest fashion trend in the market as well as small yet powerful gadgets available in the market. The past months has been exciting with many new faces opening their brands inside the mall. From savoury Thai food brought to you by Soi19 to sweet delights frozen yoghurt by YOGU, high tech watches from GARMIN to simple and good quality home products by MINISO, there are more selection for shoppers to choose.

Love was in the air as the 3rd 38 Media Wedding Expo was held here, with many hotels as well as bridal studios taking opportunity to collaborate and promote themselves to lovely lovebirds who are planning for their wedding, and those who signed up were in the running to win lucky prizes from the organiser, 38 Media.

There is more in this edition of Vivarious. Have fun reading it and before I sign off, I would like to wish all our readers Selamat Hari Gawai, and also Selamat Hari Raya.

HAPPY TREATS ENAK RIANG

Crunchy Yoo Tiao or also called Yao Char Kuai, a well-loved and familiar Chinese snacks by I Love Yoo, aims to give food lovers a taste of the traditional, with a modern twist.

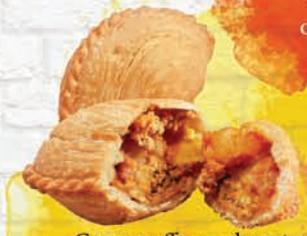

Yoo Tiao, also known as Chinese doughnuts have long been part of daily life in China. In Malaysia, it is known in English as "You Char Kway" or "Yoo Tiao" and in Bahasa Malaysia as "cakoi". Cakoi is usually sold in morning street markets or "pasar malam", the night markets.

Soy Milk and Yoo Tiao is one of the most popular Chinese breakfast and snacks around Asia. The long golden brown deep fried breadstick is familiar to everyone in the East. It is savoury and lightly salted, and made to be torn lengthwise in two. It can be eaten on its own, or as an accompaniment with rice congee, soy milk or coffee, or with whatever takes your fancy.

DID YOU KNOW?

Everything, from the grains and the soy beans to the curry puffs and flour for yoo tiao are brought into each outlet daily before opening time. Because I Love Yoo! fans deserve only the freshest.

Curry puffs are almost a staple snack in Malaysia, crispy puffs stuffed with delightful fillings that can range anywhere between chicken, potatoes, eggs and sardines!

Gawai Dayak

Gawai, known as the Harvest Festival means festival in Iban language. Dayak people celebrate it marking the end of the rice harvest, and also time to rest before the new planting season starts. Celebrated on the 1st and 2nd of June every year, the celebration begins at the evening of 31st May.

They will perform a myriad of ceremonies before and during the festive. At midnight, the Chief of the longhouse will lead everyone to drink the traditional rice wine and wish each other with "gayu-guru, gerai-nyamai" which means long life, health and prosperity.

A Little Kingdom - Long House

The traditional dwelling place of the Dayak houses up to more than 20 families under one roof. Most of the traditional celebration ceremonies are held in the long house veranda which spans the entire length of the long house.

Dou Celebr

How much do you

Kumang Keling

During the Gawai celebration, there will be a contest where the the Kumang (Female) and Keling (Male), whom are still single, compete to see who is the best among the best to be crowned the winner. The contest involves many activities such as singing and dancing, and sometimes, poetry. There are also competition to see who can dress up most accurately traditionally, with a beauty pageant contest being the most popular. There are many variations to this depending on the organiser.

The Ngajat

The 'Ngajat', once a dance performed after warriors return from battle, now has become a welcoming dance to usher and celebrate the Gawai festival. The male dancer's dons headgear made from the tail feathers of the Rhinoceros Hornbill (nowadays, made from synthetic feathers as the bird is a protected species), a long sword on one hand, an ornated shield on the other, with a ceremonial cawat or loincloth, and vest, and leaps, jumps and prances depicting war. Female dancer's dons elaborated headdress decorated with chains and beads and dresses with intricated weaving. Their dances are more elegant and soft graceful movement.

More than just about fasting

Muslim fast for a month starting on the ninth month of Islamic calendar known as Ramadan. Is not just fasting physically but also spiritually from dawn until sunset. Muslim observers have to abstain from smoking or any generally sinful speech and behaviours. It is also during this time they perform charitable acts like giving zakat, where they donate money to the needy and is considered a good deed.

Blessing oil lamps

Known as pelita or panjut, it is lighted up from the 20th day of Ramadan to attract spirits and angles alike believed to bring blessings to their home during Lailatul Qadar. The lights continue to shine brightly until the last day of the festival.

Ask for forgiveness

The young seeks forgiveness from the elders on the first day of Hari Raya. They get on their knee, place their forehead on the hand of the elders and saying "maaf zahir dan batin" (forgive me outwardly and inwardly), apologising for their wrongdoings.

Ketupat

One of the most anticipated dishes served during Hari Raya, the Ketupat is rice a fist-sized woven palm or coconut leaf in a diamond shaped pouch with rice grains inside and been boiled for hours, where the expanding rice fills the pouch, giving its characteristic and texture.

Origin story of Ketupat is, during the earlier years the seafarers used this way to keep cooked rice away from spoiling and last longer for their journey as well as keeping insects away from the cooked rice.

FIRE AND FURY: TRUMP WHITE HOUSE

ISBN: 9781408711392 |

Author: Michael Wolff | Price: RM89.90

“There have been so many books written about Donald Trump and his presidency that Michael Wolff’s latest offering should have flown under the radar when it was due to be published in January 2018, until the unthinkable happened: the publisher of the book received a cease-and-desist letter from the Trump’s lawyer to block the publication of the book. The book industry exploded: the publisher pushed forward the publication date and the White House claimed that the book is filled with fabrication and lies, while the rest of the world struggled to get their hands on the overnight hottest book in town...”

IRON BIRD MONIKA

ISBN: 9786020378435 | Author: Monika Anggreini | Price: RM45.00

“While it is easy to say “women can do anything a man can do”, the slogan feels empty when considering that many challenging and interesting jobs are male-dominated. After all, you can’t be what you can’t see. Which is why it is always heartening and emboldening to hear stories of women smashing the glass ceiling to pave the way for others to fall into their footsteps, and closer to hope. Captain Monika Anggreini of AirAsia is one of the trailblazers of this movement...”

AEROPLANE CHESS GAME

March, 17 - 18 - Known to be cause of some friendship breaker in our childhood times, an aeroplane chess piece was blown 10 times bigger and placed in the mall. Many shoppers were excited as it invokes memories and laughter when they saw it, even some of them decided to participate. Many had fun with their kids as they bond and had fun playing it, though kids have their own rule in their mind.

FREE COTTON CANDY DAY

January, 13 - Free cotton candies were given out to shoppers and families. Kids were ecstatic and happy as they receive little pink cotton candy, while adults reminiscent the days when it is commonly available, while many took the opportunity to take photos of it, making it Instagram and social media worthy. The whole environment was warm and sweet.

Also aside kids colouring contest, a modern twist to traditional calligraphy called Blowing Blossom Drawing contest, Chinese Calligraphy contest as well as workshop teaching visitors on traditional crafting. The event is part of their promotional tour for their Chinese Cultural Night 2018 held at Arena Gemilang, Detar Putra at UNIMAS on 24 March 2018.

"TSUM TSUM"

COLOURING CONTEST

March, 17 - Gather up, Tsum Tsum Fans! More than 40 kids aged between 7-12 joined the Tsum Tsum Colouring contest. Filling up the colouring sheet of the Tsum Tsum members with their colouring tools, many were creative with their skills and ideas. Unique pieces of artworks were created under those little hands, which had our judges hard time picking the winners as all of them were very well created.

The first Malaysia Lion International English Chess Championship for the Disabled Malaysia zone was held here on 4th of March. With 32 contestants from Sarawak and Sabah, they were eyeing for the top positions in the Grand Final Malaysia Lions International English Chess Championship, held in Kuala Lumpur.

The Lion Club of Kuala Lumpur Central has been organising this event annually for the past 22 years. As this championship participants were either blind, deaf or physically challenged, the main purpose of this event is to raise awareness of "special" individuals who possess positive character traits with strong spirit of sportsmanship and competitiveness.

Chinese Cultural Showcase

Chinese New Year is one of the biggest festive for the Chinese community around the world. As we usher in the Year of Dog 2018, Vivacity Megamall organised a series of events. The word play on “Wang”(旺) means prosperous also resembles the barking sound of a dog, “Wang”(汪). The programme showcases the thundering drum of the 24 season drums, skilfulness of the Wushu Chinese martial arts, Chinese ethnic dance and the indispensable Lion Dance show with the highlight which is the breath-taking Acrobatic High Pole Lion Dance.

Aside from performances, there were also limited edition origami red packets and lucky coin pouch redemption for shoppers. Also, there was the Chinese New Year Bazaar at the E. Atrium. Surrounded with brightly lit lanterns, blooming plum blossom and at one corner, a fortune plum blossom wishing tree stands where shoppers can write down and hang their new year wishes.

The first 3 days of Chinese New Year was welcome by the playful prancing lions which performed to celebrate and entertain the shoppers and ended with a rare finale which is the Dragon Dance by the Chinese Martial Art Association of Kuching (CMAA) at the Alfresco Area on the 15th of Chinese New Year. Also, with a photo area next to the main entrance where many took the opportunity to have a family photo taken to be remembered for many years to come.

Last but not least, we also share the joyous festive by giving out donation back to the community. With our Guest of Honour, YB Datuk Dr. Sim Kui Hian, Minister of Local Government & Housing and Mr. Jonathan Naming, the center manager of Vivacity Megamall presented the donation to The Sarawak Hun Nam Siang Tng, Kuching Chung Hua Primary School No. 1 to 6 and Kuching Chung Hua Middle School No. 1 and 4 on 9 February 2018.

CORAMAX ANNUAL DINNER

BEAUTY IN Diversity

21. 01. 2018

Special dance performance by the organising crew.

Mini games

▲ Lucky winners who gleefully walked away with awesome prizes.

Coramax Group annual dinner is held every year as appreciation towards all employees for their hard work & dedication throughout the year. Regardless of company or department, race & language, the staffs gathered together this year at The Sarawak Club on 21st January 2018 with the theme, Beauty in Diversity!

The relaxing environment shows the different side of everyone as compared to when they are at work. While some staff dressed up in traditional costumes of their own unique race and some chooses to keep it formal, everyone had the chance to be in the running for Best Dressed Male & Female of the night. Apart from the scrumptious dinner and long service award presentation, all staffs were entertained with karaoke, dance performances, mini games and best dressed catwalk. There were also photobooth and lucky draws for everyone present that night. Cally Bong won the grand prize and walked away with a 49" Smart TV. All staff enjoyed the night and is now looking forward to another exciting dinner next year.

Tossing of yee sang in wishing for a better year ahead. ▶
