As the sound of the rainforest played on a lute and the musical notes played on bronze gong passes by, Gawai and Hari Raya has gone by just like that. Oh how time flies when the festive season is so close to each other. We hope you enjoyed the interesting shows and performances which we have installed. With the variety of moist cakes and savoury food served during Hari Raya as well as the intoxicating Dayak drink and traditionally cooked food has run its course, we hope everyone had a joyous occasion.

So as we head into the third quarter of the year, the roar of independence looms near. And that sets the theme of this issue of Vivacious. We look into what makes us Malaysian, a Malaysian. From the common grounds we all have to the food we love, do check out the section dedicated to this. This quarter also becomes one of the proudest moment of our country where each independence lead up to the formation of Malaysia in September 1963. Down went the old flags and up went the Jalur Gemilang, the flag that all Malaysian stood under. Merdeka!

So in this issue of Vivacious, enjoy the selection of upcoming fashion which you can find and combo in Vivacity Megamall. This becomes a no brainer for all so you can grab whichever fashion items which catches your fancy. Also, new faces are showing up at the mall as new brands are making their way inwards to East Malaysia. Feels like KL doesn't it? Do check out new stores which has opened recently too if you have missed them during the hustle and bustle of the festive season.

Also we would like to extend our thanks to all the runners who joined in running for a good cause at our very first charity run. It was an overwhelming success and we look forward to a bigger one next year, giving back more to the community!

That's all from me. So sit back, relax and enjoy the journey in this edition of Vivacious! It is a tough job putting all this together as there are so many delicious food to look at and research about. =D

"What gets me motivated in the gym is good tunes. Whenever I do sport, I take my Sony Walkman NM-WS623 with me. It is waterproof & dustproof walkman with Bluetooth and YES!, it's my favourite sports Walkman. I have been having difficulty finding a good music gear and finally I bought mine at Harvey Norman."

Martha Bagie, Leasing Executive

"With Garmin fenix® 3 HR, you can create routes for running and cycling, examine the most remote trails, locate points of interest, tracks tons of different stats like your heart rate and the number of pace you make while running. It is compatible with a ton of accessories too. This is a great fitness watch if you love sports."

Clement Denny
Operation Executive

"Love spending my leisure time by listening to music with JBL E25BT Wireless In-Ear Headphones from Switch. Designed to fit your ears perfectly with nice bass and HD sound effect"

Kelvin Lee, A&P Executive

"Skechers GORun MOJO Verve, a sleek designed road shoe that fits for daily use. It is a lifestyle sneaker and a lightweight runner that is versatile and functional. Easy, general workout can be conquered. Runners can just step out from the gym and be street-wear ready with the same shoe on!"

Vincent Lim,
Senior Credit Control Account Executive

"I am always craving for delicious spicy food. Nando's peri-peri chicken is so juicy and tender, I can eat as many as I can. They provide a variety of sides to choose from. Some of my favourite sides are char-grilled veggie, potato wedges, and mediterranean rice. Every time I visit Nando's, ordering their signature sweet potato fries is a must."

Esther Lo, A&P Executive

Siri DIagnosis kembali lagi dengan format baru dan kali ini ia tampil dalam bentuk komik yang digarap isinya dari DIagnosis 2. Dengan ilustrasi yang amat menarik, menjadikan komik ini sebagai komik perubatan pertama di Malaysia. Menghimpunkan 7 orang doktor yang berbakat besar dalam bidang penulisan. Kerjaya ini memaksa kamu untuk melihat nilai nyawa dari pelbagai dimensi. Kerjaya ini, jika benar untuk Illahi, pasti akan menundukkan hati dan buat rasa rendah diri. Ada tikanya bila kamu berjaya, bila pesakit mula membuka mata dan melakarkan senyuman manisnya, saat itu kamu tahu inilah kerjaya yang paling 'kaya' dan kamu rela bersengkang mata, mengerah tenaga hingga ke sisa-sisa akhir yang ada kerana kamu tahu 'rasa itu' rasa yang tak mampu dibeli biar dengan segunung harta di dunia.

ISBN: 9789674192365

Author: 爱薇 | Price: RM30.00

当我阅读这本书的时候，我很好奇，人能怎么活得越老越快乐呢？变老，是人生避不了的过程。作者透过分享她的生活哲学与故事点滴，让读者从中获取快乐的“秘方”及如何享受惬意又自在的退休生活。书中也提及到，老并不可怕，可怕的是心态！有些人年纪越大，越喜欢待在家中安逸的享受晚年。但是这可能会造成加快衰老的速度。其实我们应该多出外活动，例如每天早上坚持做晨动、多找朋友或老同学聚会或聊天。我们也可以多参与户外活动，例如结伴去旅行，这也可以让我们多认识新朋友。另外，学习绘画、学书法或是弹古乐器等能避免大脑老化。

Multicultural

Malaysia is a melting pot of races, religion and cultural, where you can find Malays, Chinese, Indians and many other ethnic groups living together in one of the most multicultural region. There are numerous cultural festivals that is celebrated in Malaysia every year, showing the multicultural and unity of Malaysia.

Biodiversity

in 2001 Malaysia is recognised by the Global Diversity outlook as one of the 12 mega-biodiversity countries in the world. There are more than 170,000 flora and fauna species including most of the world's most unique species living in the forests which have existed for hundred million years. Rafflesia- the largest flower in the world, Orang Utan- the gardeners of the forest, and Sun Bear- the smallest bear in the world are part of the unique species in Malaysia.

Blend of History & Modernity

Other than the colourful cultural and food, the monuments that decorate the skylines and postcards of this country have its own profound history; blending together with the modern buildings forming a unique view in Malaysia. Beside modern building, the street still retains some heritages of the past in the middle of the city. There are two Unesco World Heritage Cities rooted in Malaysia; George Town in Penang and Malacca. The architectures from different centuries and local elements are blended perfectly together.

Multilingualism

Most Malaysian grew up speaking two or more languages. It is usual to hear Malaysian speaking with multiple languages or the unique Malaysian language – "Manglish" which is mixed words and phrases from Malay, English, Mandarin or other languages. Most of the time, Malaysian speak few languages in a sentence or a conversation instead of just one major language.

Food Paradise

The fastest way to adapt into a different cultural is through their food. Malaysia's multiculturalism has made it a food paradise. Chinese, Malay, Indian and the other ethnic groups has its own dishes with its own unique flavours. With different cultural influences, there are several cooking methods and taste for a dish. The dishes that are labelled as "Must Try Food in Malaysia" are the Nasi lemak, Char Kuey Teow, Roti Canai, laksa and more (see next page). Other than that, there are lots of other foods which might be hiding inside an inconspicuous alley waiting for someone to explore.

Must-Try Foods in MALAYSIA

Nasi Lemak

Fragrant rice cooked with coconut milk and pandan (screw pine) leaf served with spicy condiment called sambal, fried anchovies (ikan bilis), peanut and hard boiled egg, is a staple for many Malaysians for breakfast. This becomes a platform for many different potential combinations. It can be served with rendang daging, fried chicken, sambal squid and many more. You are only bounded by your own imagination.

Char Kuey Teow

Flat rice noodle stir-fried over a hot wok with high heat imparts the firey or smoky taste, or called 'wok hei' to the dish. This dish has many combinations which can be found all over Malaysia, and even Singapore. Penang has a version which has fresh seafood added into it which is known throughout the world. Simple and hearty, this quick dish is easily dished out within minutes.

Roti Canai

Iconic flat bread served with curry or dal is a simple yet hearty meal, especially breakfast for many. Served by mamaks, it is available from breakfast to supper. Due to the diverse possibilities of the roti canai, it has spun many different varieties of roti canai which one can enjoy. From the savoury meat filled roti canai to the sweet roti milo, covered in Milo powder, to fruit filled roti banana or roti durian, there are endless possibility.

Laksa

This unique iconic dish has many origins which becomes hard to pinpoint where it actually started. But the love for this dish has spun many varieties, from the sour, fishy and spicy Penang Asam laksa, Sarawak laksa in the soup-base of sambal belacan, to the thick broth coconut broth spicy curry laksa and many more in between with their own unique twist.

Chicken Rice

The commonly known chicken rice hails all the way from Hainan which was brought when Chinese immigrants moved to Malaysia. The fragrant 'oily rice' is served with poached chicken, with slices of fresh cucumber and homemade chilli sauce. Variants of this dish are also available, with the poached chicken replaced with fried chicken or even roasted chicken. In Malacca, there is a novelty special, known as chicken rice ball where the rice are rolled into balls and have a stickier and more chewier texture.

ABE

Acronym for Ais Batu Lampur, this cold dessert has many ingredients in a small bowl, usually sweet, topped with finely shaved ice and drenched in condensed milk, or coconut milk, whichever preferred. At certain region, even palm sugar is an additional option to add to the taste.

Rojak

Basically a fruit and vegetable salad mix, this can be found throughout Malaysia with each region having their own variant, all mixed together with sweet, salty and pungent shrimp paste. Some rojak also adds in spiciness for the extra kick on the palate.

Sizzling away on a dome shaped pan, with juicy juices from the tender pork meat being grilled flowing downwards into the broth beneath it, giving it rich flavour, is what Moo Kata in Soi19 is all about. And if you enjoy soup, there is also the clay pot version called Jim Jum served with chicken broth rich in herbs. Bringing the taste of Thai to Kuching without the need to fly hours to reach their capital, Bangkok. The award winning establishment prides themselves with their MSG free policy as well as using the freshest of ingredients to bring the taste of Thai to the people of Kuching. They also serve many other well-known Thai dishes like the renowned Pad Thai, Tom Yam soup as well as Tom Yum fried rice and not forgetting, mango sticky rice, washing all down with famous Thai milk tea or refreshing lemongrass drink.

Taste of Thai

Jim Jum (จิมจุ่ม)

Jim Jum is served in a claypot of specially-crafted herb & chicken broth to showcase the authenticity of Northeastern Thai street food. Dunk your choice of meat into the sizzling hot pot and dip the meat into the flavourful sauces to complete your hot-piping meal.

Moo Kata (หมูกระทะ)

Savour succulent meat grilled to perfection over a dome-shaped cast pan. Pair the beautifully charred meat with an array of sauces and watch the essence of the grilled meat trickle into a pot of fresh ingredients and transformed into a bowl of warm flavourful broth.

CLASSIC PA DENIM

In and out is the order in the fashion world. However, there are those that would never be out of the list. Jeans is one which has withstood the test of time for centuries.

Denim shop, who has been in the industry for more than 20 years selling two premium denim brands – “Lee” and “Lois”. Established on 1997, by the Chung Brothers. The brands “Lee” is from USA and “Lois” is from Spain has clothing sizes larger than other brands, which is one of the reason loyal customers frequent them. This is specially true for those who wore special size of jeans which are only found at Denim Shop.

Choosing a pair of jeans isn't just about fitting only. Cutting, colour and washes has to be considered too when choosing a new pair. In the past, making jeans is more unique, people will treat it with traditional “stone wash” for different shades; From dark blue to white, black, or grey. Nowadays it is treated with acid, knife or colours into the washing process to give them an authentic look.

IRS, SHOP

It may be a wardrobe staple that never dates but that doesn't mean jeans could always be fresh. Every season, most denim brands will spend 3 to 6 months creating new design products. When Lee and Lois launch a new season, Denim Shop will obtain some of the new jeans for their store. Time to time, they will match up some trending jeans with outfits and post photos to their social media as a sample for their customers.

With the advancement in technology, they also run their business online. Customers can visit their social media page or email them details to pre-order or enquire if there is any available stock which they deliver by hand. Denim shop also collaborate with tailor shop providing alterations service for their customers.

Denim is popular element in fashion. Not limited to just jeans, there are also jacket, shirt, skirt, bags and more. This timeless and versatile fabric changes its shape and colour with time uniquely to the owner. Your own denim is uniquely yours and wear it with pride.

The Duo Celebrations

In case you missed it, check out how Vivacity Megamall celebrate Gawai & Raya and what are the traditional culture preserved!

Bamboo Dance

Two long bamboo poles are held horizontally above the ground at ankle height. Clapping each other to a low-tempo drumbeat, dancers are required to jump over or between the poles without getting their feet caught according to the tempo. To up the excitement, the tempo and speed of clapping bamboo poles will be increasingly faster and the dancers follow suit. This requires great agility to perform.

Sape

A traditional string instrument of the Orang Ulu community. Sape is a boat-shaped woodcarving masterpiece with colourful motifs, carved from a single bole of selected fine grain wood. The idea of Sape was from a farmer who dreamt of the sound of Sape would attract the spirit to come and cure his wife's sickness. In the past, the Sape was played solely during healing ceremonies, but today has become a social instrument which is used as a form of entertainment.

Perotong

The Pratuokng/ Perutong (Bidayuh Bamboo Zither) is a Bidayuh traditional instrument made from bamboo. It tuned like gong set which can also be used to replace the gong in old days when a full assemble is not present.

The Ring Lady

There are only three ring ladies left in the world from Kampung Semban (the village above the clouds) tucked in the mountains between Sarawak (Malaysia) and Kalimantan (Indonesia). They started wearing the ring at the age between 9 – 10 years old. The copper rings were a sign of beauty and prestige in their village, while the other purpose of wearing the rings is for protection from harm or unexpected injury.

Ngajat

The ngajat performed by male Iban warriors to celebrate their return from battles since the 16th Century. It depicts of them stalking and attacking their prey, wielding a sword and a shield, incorporating leaps and howls.

Nowadays, the dance is performed by both men and women during the Gawai celebration. Apart from that, it is also performed during special occasions and to welcome important guests.

Malay Traditional Dance

Silat

One of the oldest traditions and deadliest martial arts in the world. Silat also known as "The Malay Art of Self-defense" and is also a danceable art form.

Historically, the Silat, a self-defence art is used to fend off people and wild animals in order to survive. At that time, people who are proficient in the art could hold a privileged position in society. In modern times, the Silat has evolved into a sport just like many others martial arts; with its flowery body movements, it is also spellbinding and intriguing to watch on the stage.

Joget is the most popular traditional dance in Malaysia which has origins in Portuguese folk dance. Performed by pairs of couples, accompany with upbeat tempo dance together with fast and graceful movements, it showcases a playful humour in the dance itself.

Duit Raya

Duit Raya (token of money) is a Malay version of 'Ang Pow' adapted from the Chinese custom. The money is kept in a green envelope and given by the elders to the youngs during Aidilfitri. It is a unique Malaysian culture of giving and receiving with well wishes.

Malay Gamelan

Originated from Indonesia and brought to Malaysia by the Javanese in the 19th century during the early sultanates of Pahang and Terengganu. Traditionally, the gamelan is played in occasions such as social functional ceremonies, ritual ceremonies or to the royal families. Today, Gamelan is also performed as music shows in social and cultural gatherings or to accompany with traditional dances, drama, theatrical and puppetry.

Kuching Flavours Food Court

Ah Mui Beef Noodles @ Kuching Flavours Food Court in Vivacity Megamall. This food court is similar to Lot10's hutong food where they gather all the famous hawkers. Each bowl was freshly prepared by the uncle with effort. Hence the loooooong queue...
